ROSEMARIE ARNOLD IS A TRIM, STUNNING BRUNETTE with soft brown eyes, a firm, friendly handshake and a warm smile. But, her adversaries warn, don't be lulled by her charm. Arnold is as ferocious as they come. She knows the law, she knows the facts of her case, and she's always prepared. Add to that her dedication and notoriety as a "courtroom bulldog who won't be leashed" (as written in the Bergen Record), and it's easy to see why Arnold has been named to the New Jersey Super Lawyers® list every year it has been published.

Arnold's fighting spirit comes naturally. According to Mary Stuart, Arnold's third grade teacher, Arnold was "a perfectionist at age 8—at the end of the month, she always had the most points on the honor roll."

Juanita Paladino, Arnold's first client, met the budding bulldog more than 20 years ago when Arnold's office was the size of a closet. (Now it's the biggest personal injury law firm in Bergen County). "Rosemarie Arnold is ferocious, but she also has a wonderful humanitarian side," Paladino says. "She really cares about you."

Arnold's reception room is covered with hundreds of thank you notes from grateful clients. They praise her compassion, professionalism and understanding; they call her kind, brilliant, hard-working and attentive. Nearby, letters from judges compliment her courtroom skills.

One of the most recent, touching notes was written by Arnold's client Dale Brown, who was sexually assaulted by her supervisor at work for many years. Brown had gone to several lawyers who said they couldn't help her before she found Arnold. So far, Arnold has won her more than $4.6 million and the case is still pending. Brown writes, "Rosemarie, you listened. When I count my blessings, I always begin with you."

"Rosemarie is the single most effective attorney I know. She is brilliant, relentless and absolutely dedicated to our clients," says Evan Baker, a partner in Arnold's practice who joins her on the Super Lawyers list this year. (Partner Sheri Breen has been previously named to the list, and partner Joseph Tacopina, with whom Arnold practices civil litigation in New York, is perennially named to the New York Super Lawyers list.) Referring to her partners, including her fourth partner Natalie Zammitti Shaw, Arnold says, "We are a team. We play to win."

A certified civil trial attorney and in-demand media personality, Arnold has shared her legal expertise with Hannity & Colmes, CBS News, ABC News, Today Show, Inside Edition, Maury Povich, NBC News, CNN, MSNBC, A Current Affair, Fox News, NY1, WB-11, The New York Times, New York Post and Newsday.
